Volume 1, Issue 3

PILGRIM CHURCH A UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST CONGREGATION

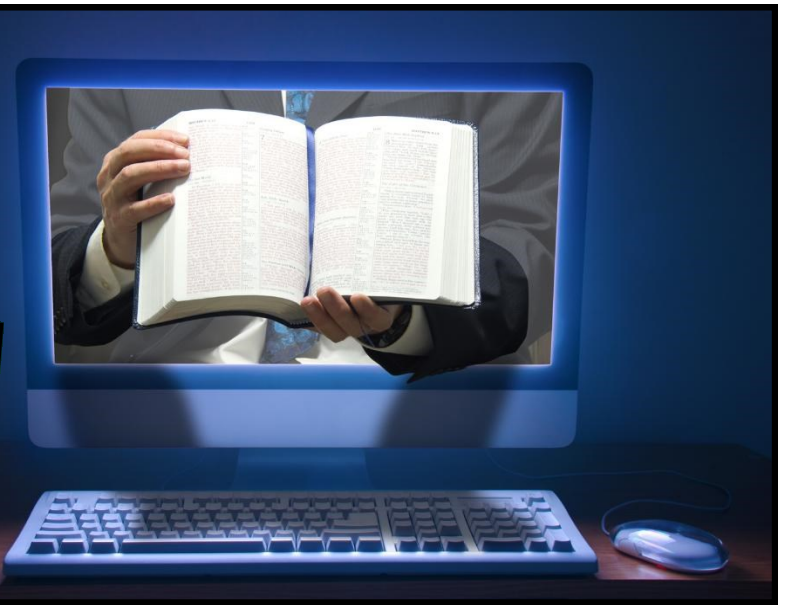

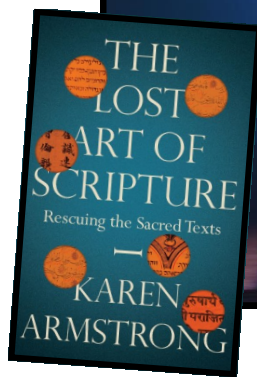

May 1st, 2020

And the Beat Goes On...

By Pastor Paul Eknes-Tucker

Now that we as a congregation have been living in Non-Ordinary Times for a while, we have learned some important things. The first is that we have more creativity than we might have imagined. We haven't missed worship on Sunday morning even as safety rules prevented our gathering in person. Thanks to the technological genius of John Williams and the dedicated staff and volunteer worship leaders, Pilgrim's on-line worship has been a tremendous success. The on-line worship is based on a typical Pilgrim worship experience while expanding our worship participants greatly. In fact, since putting our worship service on-line each week, our average attendance has more than doubled, with some Sundays having reached more than 100 participants. We have been joined by folks from Huntsville, Alabama and even Chicago, Illinois, as well as some of our local folks who are quarantined at home. Even though I have GREATLY missed seeing everyone in person, I am grateful that God has once again provided a way.

The second blessing is that we are now expanding our on-line presence with Zoom gatherings of the Pilgrim Book Club. We are currently reading, The Lost Art of Scripture, by Karen Armstrong. We had our first Zoom meeting in late April and we will continue with this format until we are able to meet in person again. If you would like to be part of the gathering or suggest books for the future, please call me at the church office or email me at peknestucker@gmail.com. I will add you to the list getting the meeting sign-in. Other groups in the congregation can use Zoom for meetings, prayer or just to be part of a group. I am still learning how to host these gatherings but by the time you read this, I should have it running smoothly.

And finally, the third blessing I want to let you know about is that our work with Firehouse Shelter continues. Last month was our cooks' first time in preparing the meal at the church/home and dropping it off at the Firehouse. The current protocols for Firehouse don't allow for volunteer groups to cook and serve until the pandemic eases. We anticipate cooking at the church this month, so we will be gathering in the church kitchen and at various home kitchens on May 8th to prepare the meal. You may remember that in April the pandemic had just caused panic buying in grocery stores. As it turned out, Sam's was hit just as hard.

So, we had to be creative with our menu and may continue to find this to be the case in coming months. But, through it all,

Pilgrim folks came through: Maria, Chaeli, Kholby, John and Richard all helped make it possible.

TOGETHER WE CAN FACE ANY CHALLENGES AS
DEEP AS THE OCEAN AND AS HIGH AS THE SKY.

Sonia Gandhi

*thankful
AND grateful*

So, the pandemic has given us a fierce challenge and the people of Pilgrim have figured out ways to keep the beat going.

I am blessed to serve among you. I hope you feel the same way about each other.

It's All About Me!

By Jim Ball

I restarted my spiritual journey after being away from church for over thirty years. I had separated myself from church and from God, believing the condemning and judgmental teachings of that denomination. But, alas, God led me to Covenant Community Church and, Praise God, my spiritual journey was rekindled. I had started my spiritual journey as a youth but it was put on hold when I left the church. An important part of a Christian's spiritual journey is studying the Holy Bible, so I started reading it again. Gaining guidance from my studies I began to grow in the Lord. But I had a problem. As I read the passages that dealt with condemning and judging I would automatically think of the persons, the teachings, the dogma that condemned and judged me. My mind concentrated on these thoughts, not on God, and improving my life. How dare these condemn and judge me! I thought I was so right in this. But this was drastically slowing my spiritual journey as I was condemning and judging these folks just as they had me. I was using the Bible against them as they had me. I was wasting precious time that I should be using to commune with God and improve my life.

judging others instead of focusing on my positive spiritual growth. I was applying these character developing passages to their lives, not to my own. I was blind. Those passages, as I read them, were meant for me. It's all about me! These passages were instructing me, not judging and condemning me. This became an important part of my prayers: That, as I study the Word of God, I apply the principles for a joyous life to me and not use them in condemning and judging others. I pray this prayer often because I am weak but God is

I'm so glad God has a switch to the light in my head! He flipped it, "ON". He made me realized just what I was doing. Through my own self-righteousness, I was concentrating on condemning and strong. When these thoughts come into my mind, I pray for God to remove them. He does! And, thus, my life is improved! By freeing my mind of these condemning, judgmental thoughts, I am better able to offer hope, show faithfulness and share joy!

Hallelujah, Hallelujah, It's All About Me! Amen!

SOMEBODY, EVERYBODY, ANYBODY & NOBODY

By Jennifer and Tammy

We would like to share a story about four people I know.

Their names are SOMEBODY, EVERYBODY, ANYBODY and NOBODY. This is a true story!

The note was posted on the billboard at church, where EVERYBODY could see it. The note said "I" need SOMEBODY to teach Sunday School next week. EVERYBODY read the note. It was a simple request so EVERYBODY thought ANYBODY could do the job. So EVERYBODY went home thinking that SOMEBODY would get ANYBODY to do it. The next of allowing NOBODY to do it.

GOD is calling EVERYBODY to His ministry. And NOBODY thinks they are worthy of such a call. But ANYBODY can do it.*

Sunday EVERYBODY realized that the class was taught by NOBODY.

The moral of the story is this. IF a job needs to be done and EVERYBODY knows about it, SOMEBODY should do what ANYBODY could do, instead

LISTEN!
 God is calling someone now. Is that SOMEBODY YOU?

Be still and know that I am God

By Jim Ball

Sometimes, life can be just down right frustrating! It can be easy for us to start focusing on these vexing situations. We can start worrying, thinking about stuff. In our mind we can play scenario after scenario about what might happen. We can fret. This fretting can get us down, spiritually and physically. That's when we just have to stop and focus on God! We have to be still and wait on the Lord for the answer. When we are still and await God, our minds become clearer. When God occupies our minds we are not worrying about the stuff going on in our lives. Oh, the situation is still there but we are not worrying about what may come. We are thinking more positively, which is what God wants. Positive thinking brings about positive outcomes. Fears vanish, for God is the stronghold of our lives. God will lead us back into the light. What happens tomorrow will happen, but by concentrating on God and His Son, Jesus Christ, we are better able to deal with these situations. As a mortal man, Jesus had truly frustrating situations in His life. During those frustrating times, Jesus turned to God, His Father, for comfort. Let us take refuge in the Lord as Jesus did and see the good things God has stored up for us!

DID YOU KNOW?

By Tammy and Jennifer

God is the Most Amazing Painter. And this is why we think so.

As you are riding down the interstate just take a minute to notice all the variations of colors in the trees: All the greens, reds, yellows, oranges and so on. The flowers sprinkle brilliant colors that dance in the wind. While all the while the blues that fill the sky on a sunny day will melt your soul.

Then look up at the sky when it gets about dusk or when the sun begins to set. The colors will blow you away. Sometimes you have pinks, blues and purples then sometimes you will have whites with a touch of fuchsia, and then other times there are slices of orange mixed into the mix. Oh, what wonderful colors.

Then take a minute to look in your partner's or your child's eyes. Take notice to all the differences in them. Notice how they change with their mood, when they laugh, when they smile, when they cry or when they are sad. Notice how the hues change.

Every one's eyes are one of a kind, just like the stripes on each Zebra, the lines in your fingerprints, the leaves on the trees and every snowflake. ONLY the most amazing painter could have thought to have done something so special, amazing and unique. And He gave it ALL to us to share each and every day.

Take time today, if only for a minute or two, to enjoy the Master Painter's beautiful MASTERPIECES!

STAINED GLASS BY RON VANDER SCHAAF

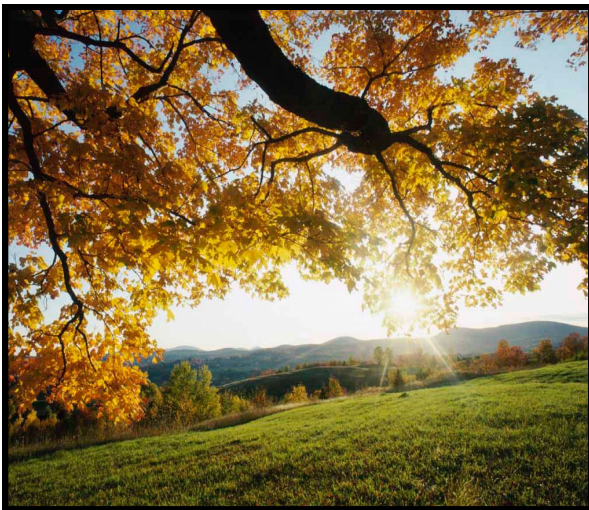

These stained glass pieces are some that Ron has been working on since the pandemic.

The one with the two "walls" has 75 pieces in it. It's the kind of design that helps me use up scrap pieces. My work with glass has become my refuge and semi-sanctuary during these times.

Spring is Like a Perhaps Hand

By E. E. Cummings, 1894 - 1962

placing carefully there a strange thing and a known thing here and changing everything carefully.

Spring is like a "perhaps hand" in a window carefully to and fro moving New and

Spring is like a "perhaps hand" which comes carefully out of nowhere arranging a window, into which people look while people stare arranging and changing,

Old things, while people stare carefully moving a "perhaps fraction" of flower here placing an inch of air there and without breaking anything.

Today's Trial is tomorrow's Cestimony

WITHOUT GOD
our week would be:
Sinday
Mournday
Tearsday
Wasteday
Thirstday
Fightday
Shatterday

Seven days without God
...makes one weak!

Every day should be mother's day, but since it just doesn't work that way in the real world, it's nice to have a special day to honor women... and specifically those brave souls who take on the enormous task of motherhood. I can't imagine anything that's quite as intoxicating as watching your newborn baby sleep, the toothy grin of a toddler, or a warm hug from a teenager. The years, days and moments pass so quickly... let's celebrate mother's day with an outpouring of love for all those who have played a maternal role in our lives.

Love to ALL! Jennifer & Tammy
